

“French UFO wave”

November 5, 1990

- Thousands of witness reports, artwork
- Mass media saturated
- Fireball reports common, but accompanied by more artificial structured objects
- Some reports of EM effects on computers, car radios
- Explanation of fiery falling satellite vigorously snubbed

Light swarms

Lorsque M. Giaccolini a dessiné pour nous ce qu'il appelle « la croix », il a spontanément placé l'avant de l'ensemble à gauche. Peut-être peut-on en déduire que, si le phénomène n'est pas passé rigoureusement à la verticale des témoins, sa projection au sol passait au sud, plutôt qu'au nord de leur position

Discussion

- Typical report mix of fireball swarms versus alien craft
- Gorizont-23 was launched by a Proton booster on Nov 3, 1990, and third stage in low parking orbit decayed Nov 5
- Jean Sider [MUFON UFO Journal, May 1992] said the wave could be "the greatest UFO flap in France since the autumn of 1954", as well as "one of the largest possible UFO flaps in French history." [http://www.jamesoberg.com/france\_flap\_ufo.pdf]
- Some witnesses reported "alternating slow and rapid speeds" or a "vertical ascent"
- Civil & military pilots among most spectacular misperceivers. "This thing was not of this world," said Capt. Mike D'Alton. "In all my 23 years of flying I've never seen a craft anything like this." <http://www.zipworld.com.au/~psmith/pilot-ufos.html>
